

The leading magazine for Europe's security and defence community

The magazine is the first winner of the European award for "Citizenship, security and defence" 2011

This magazine, published and edited by Hartmut Bühl, is a product of the Pro Press Publishing Group, Berlin. It offers a platform for discussion on topical issue of European Security and Defence Policy in all his aspects: civil, military, political, industrial and societal. With its current circulation of 1800 hardcopies and more than 22,500 electronic copies it makes a vital contribution to the Common Security and Defence Policy (CSDP) as a veritable discussion platform.

Hartmut Bühl has succeeded to link the magazine to the Pro Press Publishing Group's three most important annual conferences in Europe on security and defence,

- the "European Congress on Disaster Management" (www.civil-protection.com),
- the "European Police Congress" (www.european-police.eu) and
- the "Congress on European Security and Defence" (www.euro-defence.eu),

Thus he has created a veritable platform for community-building among readers of the magazine, the congress participants and security and defence industries from Europe and beyond.
